THE NEW YORK REPUBLICANS.

CONFERENCE AT SARATOGA.

SENATOR CONKLING'S RINGING LETTER.

A Political Conference.

SARATOGA, Aug. 29. About a hundred persons came together in response to A. B. Cornell's circular. John D. Townsend of New York Chairman, Charles E. Smith, Albany Evening Journal, Secretary. Cornell explained that he had called the conference so that all the Republicans of the State might confer together, the recent meeting having excluded all but Administration Republicans.

Senator Conkling's Letter to Mr. Cornell.

A letter from Roscoe Conkling was read as follows.

MY DEAR SIR:—I have your note; a number of Republicans will meet at Saratoga to-morrow to take counsel together. This seems to be wise and timely. The government of the country is rapidly passing absolutely into the hands of those who lately sought to destroy it, not stopping till they had filled the land with woe and burdened it with debt and taxes, which now rest so heavily upon us. This is not wise for any reason. Raids on the treasury vast in amount and without right or honesty are mustering for the time when the solid South dominating the Democratic party will and must, shall again rule the two houses of Congress. Wild schemes of repudiation and financial chaos and revolution find encouragement on every hand, and in most of the States the Democratic party is being drawn into the whirlpool of [illegible] theories. Equality before the law and political rights and liberty which the recent amendments of the constitution were ordained to establish, are becoming only a mockery throughout the South and free States.

New York, as the greatest commercial state and far the largest tax-payer in the [illegible] I believe, the Republican party. Certainly the time is [illegible] for the Republicans of New York to come together in [illegible] harmony, [illegible] personal and minor [illegible], and joining heart and hand [illegible] purpose to national security, and honesty to protect human right. I should like to meet you all [illegible], but it seems better that I remain away.

I am charged that a claim to be [illegible]

[illegible]

ROSCOE CONKLING.

To the Hon. Alonzo B. Cornell.

Resolutions were adopted favoring a full State Convention [illegible] the success of the Republican party. Adjourned.

She relates that she murdered the baby first and when she undertook to kill the little five years old boy on the bed to cut his throat he clung to her and begged piteously, saying "Oh mamma don't kill me; don't kill me!" After cutting his throat she struck him on the side of the head with a piece of iron to complete her work. She is about 40 years old and possess intelligence. Some believe she is insane.

WASHINGTON.

What Kearney Thinks of Hayes and Tilden.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29. Dennis Kearney addressed a large audience to-night from the eastern portico of the Capitol. His remarks were of the usual character. He said he considered the President a nice gentleman personally, but he did not have any high opinion of him as a President. He had the honor of casting his maiden vote for Hayes. He denounced Tilden and all his followers, believing if the latter had been elected the country would have been ruined.

Opinions to be Heeded.

"Capital may be produced by industry or accumulated by economy, but only jugglers will propose to create it by legerdemain tricks with paper."

THOMAS JEFFERSON.

"I know of no evil which mere legislation can produce, so hard for the great body of the community as that of an irredeemable paper currency."

GOVERNOR INGERSOLL.

"A paper currency is a great curse to any people and a particular curse to the laborer of any country, for its depreciation always falls upon the laborer."

ANDREW JACKSON.

"Paper emissions by the Government are of a nature so liable to abuse, I may say so certain to be abused, that the wisdom of the Government will be shown by never trusting itself with so seducing and dangerous a power."

ALEXANDER HAMILTON.

"It (paper money) tends to aggravate the inequality of fortunes, to make the rich richer and the poor poorer, to multiply nabobs and paupers, and to deepen and widen the gulf which separated Dives from Lazarus."

THOMAS H. BENTON.

"It is safe to affirm that all experience is in the way [paper currency] as a circulating medium has demonstrated the proposition that it cannot by any legislation, however stringent, be made a standard of value or the just equivalent of gold and silver."

NATHAN CLIFFORD.

"Irredeemable paper money converts the business of society into a mere lottery; and when the collapse comes, as come it must, it casts laborers out of employment, [illegible] manufacturers and merchants and ruins thousands of honest, industrious citizens."

JAMES BUCHANAN.

Business Items.

JAY GOULD'S COLOSSAL FORTUNE. The papers have a great deal to say about Jay Gould and his stock operations but none of them have ever revealed the inner history of the manner in which he accumulated his colossal fortune. Messrs. Lawrence & Co., Bankers and Brokers, 57 Exchange Place, New York City, have just published the secret of the whole matter, and the new way for dealing successfully in Stocks by pooling or combining thousands of orders from City and Country, and operating them as one immense [illegible] account—thus securing all the advantages of the largest capital and most experienced skill. Messrs. Lawrence & Co.'s circular gives "two unerring rules for success" in Stock operations, and many of their patrons have recently made large profits on small capital. One customer made $200 in 30 days from $40—another $809 from $75—another $750 from $125—another $1200 from [illegible]. R. S. Webb, of [illegible], Pa., writes under date of Aug. 10th, 1878: "Messrs. Lawrence & Co., yours containing remittance for $1,113.25, as profits on my 200 shares, is received. Accept my thanks, as I am very well satisfied. As you request, you may use this letter. I would recommend every one who feels disposed to speculate to send for your circular." The Working Church for August says: "We are not accustomed to commend [illegible] above [illegible], but if people will speculate we feel compelled to point out the channels through which they can do it most safely and successfully. This [illegible] is the only principle in which great success has ever been achieved in Wall St." An article in Frank Leslie's Ill. Newspaper, Aug. 24th, says: "Nothing 'succeeds like success' and the tide of speculation [illegible] seems to set towards Lawrence & Co.'s system."

That wonderful Lifting Jack and Jack Screw combined that is so much talked of in the newspapers of late, has finally reached Bangor and is on exhibition at the Exchange Hotel. PERSONAL. Mr. Charles S. Chandler, who for the past three years has been connected with the Commercial in the capacity of mailing clerk and reporter, started for Boston on the boat yesterday morning, to seek his fortune at the "hub." Mr. Chandler has a host of friends in this city, all of whom will unite with us in wishing him the best possible success.

The Portland Press says: The funeral of the late George [illegible], the engineer who lost his life by the explosion [illegible], took place on Wednesday afternoon from the residence [illegible]. Rev. [illegible] officiated. [illegible] J. L. Shaw. The remains were placed in Evergreen cemetery.

[illegible] The counsel for [illegible] Hope, having [illegible] a petition to the Court Wednesday for a writ of habeas corpus, His Honor Judge Peters ordered that the prisoner be brought into Court yesterday morning when a hearing would be held. In the meantime the officers had been in communication with the officers of Kennebec County who at first seemed anxious to secure Hope on account of the Winthrop affair, but yesterday they telegraphed first one thing and then another until the officers here did not know what they wanted to do. The hearing was postponed until afternoon, and then as they had heard nothing definitely it was again postponed until four o'clock. At four o'clock as nothing had been heard, His Honor Judge Peters ordered that the prisoner be discharged. In company with his counsel Hope proceeded to the hotel and last evening he took the train it is supposed for New York. A large crowd congregated about the jail when it was learned that the prisoner had been discharged and one would think from the applause when Hope stepped out of the door that instead of being a noted bank robber he had been greatly persecuted by the officers of the law.

BICYCLING. Mr. Will R. Pitman, of [illegible], has arrived in the city with several of these machines and has leased Andrews Hall for the purpose of instructing the club of young men which has been formed in this city. A SERIOUS CONFLAGRATION AT CALAIS. Our correspondent S. under date of the 29th inst, writes: At seven o'clock last evening a fire was discovered in the engine room of the St. Croix Planing Mills. The engines were promptly on hand and it was supposed put the fire out, but an hour later it broke out again and it had got under so much headway that it was impossible to control it. The mill and all the outbuildings were entirely destroyed. At one time it was feared that the wharf and three vessels would be burned, but by hard work they were saved. The loss on the mill is estimated at twenty thousand dollars. No insurance.

IMPROVEMENTS AT THE MAINE SALOON. Since Mr. J. F. Murray has taken charge of the eating saloon at the Maine Central depot it has been undergoing quite extensive repairs. There has been a large addition built upon the kitchen and it has been arranged in a very convenient manner. Doors have been cut through the partition next to the gentlemen's waiting room, thus affording a direct connection with the saloon without going outside. A long lunch counter has been arranged across the rear of the saloon, the floor relaid, [illegible], and when they have all the improvements completed the saloon will be in first-class condition.

FOR THE LADIES. Monograms are in favor again, and are embroidered on slippers, collars, handkerchiefs, cuffs and parasols, in the gayest colors. Satin and brocade are the materials most used at present for making handsome dresses that will be worn in the fall and winter. A pretty bracelet for a young girl is a slender band of gold with a small palm-leaf on the top, made of diamonds and turquoises. Young ladies wear very pretty Jean suits, ornamented with crewels by their own hands, and finished with a belt embroidered to match. These are very stylish, as they cannot be purchased ready made, and only be designed especially to suit the taste of the wearer.

NOT MUCH OF AN ANGLER. The Lewiston Journal says: "An industrious angler, to whom a sniff of the salt sea breeze was a novelty, had cast his line into the waters off Harpswell Neck and toiled cheerfully many hours pulling in the festive sculpins which inhabit that portion of the Atlantic. His face wore a satisfied expression and he considered that his was rare luck. A Lewiston wag rudely interrupted his sport by telling him that the fish were worthless. "What, not good for anything?" exclaimed the fisherman. "They are good for nothing but clam bait," the wag replied and departed. The angler pulled in his line and was later seen wandering along the shore and anxiously inquiring "where there was a good place to catch clams."

SABBATH SCHOOL EXCURSION AND PIC-NIC. The East Newport Sabbath School made an excursion in barges to "Lawrence's Landing" on the border of Newport Pond, last Wednesday, where the day was spent most pleasantly, the party numbering about one hundred and fifty persons. The exercises consisted of singing, boating, organ and vocal music, prayer and address by Rev. Mr. Stackpole, short sermon by Rev. David Boyd, the Superintendent of school, from Mark VI—31, "Come ye yourselves apart into a desert place and rest awhile." Remarks were also made by an aged citizen, Dea. [illegible], York. The beautiful collation was enjoyed by all, and the occasion will long be cherished in the memory of those who made up the happy company.

RAPID MOVEMENT OF PORK. One of our citizens who owns a farm in Brewer, took a gentleman friend and drove over to the place a few days since for the purpose of looking about the farm. In passing a large pig sty the visitor was surprised to see an immense porker looking out of a window several feet above the ground. He remarked that it would be a good idea to nail a piece of board across the window, as the porker was liable to jump out, but the proprietor thought there was no danger. The visitor said so much, however, that at last the gentleman decided to place a board across the window and entered the pen for that purpose. He had no sooner stepped into the pen than the porker made a run for the window and the owner undertook to head him off but the porker was too quick for him and went through the window like a bullet and landed in the mud several feet from the pen. The owner rushed out expecting that he had broken his neck, but found that he had landed safely and was uninjured. He remarked that it was the most rapid movement in pork that he ever witnessed.

CAMP GROUND NOTES. The Belfast Journal says: The annual meeting week of the Methodist society commenced at Northport on Monday, Aug. 26th. The attendance for the opening was very large, and the majority of the crowd have been dwellers on the grounds for weeks. This resort is fast changing from its original design as a place of religious gatherings to a summer watering place. The large number of vehicles of every description, taking their loads of country freight, formerly seen upon the road, are now almost unknown. Their absence was noticeable on Monday and Tuesday. The assemblage is more of a fashionable nature, and comes mostly from the cities by daily communication from Bangor, Rockland, &c. The travel from Belfast was never known to be so light as on this occasion. The five steamers that run regularly between this city and the grounds did not have passengers enough on Monday and Tuesday to pay for the fuel consumed. Trips were made with but three and four passengers.—Considerable religious interest was manifested by those present to participate in the exercises, and the open air and tent meetings are well attended.—A noticeable number of new cottages have been erected since last year.—The weather has been unaccountably cool for tent life.—Excellent order is maintained on the grounds by an efficient police force.—A United States vessel lays off the grounds besides a large number of yachts and other minor craft.

THE FARRINGTON REUNION. A correspondent writes: The descendants of Dea. John Farrington, with a few invited guests, to the number of one hundred and ten, held a reunion and picnic in the grove on [illegible] hill, in Holden, the 27th inst. The day was everything that could be desired and it was a delightful occasion to all who were present. After the interchange of greetings all sat down to the long table, which was beautifully decorated with flowers and bountifully spread with the products of the farms, dairies and stores of those present. If the company was not satisfied with the variety, quality and quantity of the viands, and the jokes and repartee that enlivened the occasion, it was not the fault of the "bill of fare." [illegible] A brief history was given of the ancestors for the past two hundred and thirty years, and many interesting incidents and reminiscences of the past generations were recounted, interspersed with the singing of "America," "The Old Folks are gone," "Never forget the dear ones," "Twenty years ago," "When shall we meet again," and other selections followed by remarks from several of the gentlemen present. Dea. Farrington was one of the eight original settlers who came to this town from Wrentham, Mass., ninety-two years ago. He lived on this hill with his wife and nine children, an unbroken family, fifty-two years. One daughter only survives, aged eighty-three years and one daughter-in-law, aged seventy-six.—Seated in ancient arm chairs, encircled with vines and flowers, these aged ladies added much to the interest of the occasion. Of his two hundred and seventeen descendants to the fifth generation, one hundred and fifty-seven are now living, all staunch Republicans. Hard, honest money, is the circulating medium for them. All were so well pleased with the success of this reunion that it was unanimously voted to repeat it annually to the end of time.

THE CAMPAIGN.

Republican Convention at Princeton.

Our Calais correspondent writes: The Republican Convention of the classed towns of Princeton, Baileyville, Baring, Topsfield, Jackson Brook, etc. met at Princeton Wednesday, and nominated Frank Chadbourne for Representative. The convention was largely attended and an unusual interest manifested. After the business was transacted a mass meeting was held and addressed by G. A. Curran and C. B. Rounds, Esqrs., of Calais, each of whom spoke for more than an hour, [illegible] and frequent applause. In these up-river districts the Greenbackers are very scarce, and the indications are that the great American monetary system, like the potato bug, would do any damage among the sensible farmers of this county.

Hon. T. M. Nichols Esq. at Corinna.

Mr. Editor: A rousing Republican meeting was held at Corinna last evening, on which occasion the audience was one of the largest and most intelligent that ever assembled here at a political meeting. The address by T. M. Nichol Esq. was the ablest and most convincing argument that I ever heard. He spoke for three hours going over the whole ground in a very thorough manner, refuting the Greenback clap-trap and presenting facts and figures that showed the fallacy of their theory. He received the closest attention from the large audience, and at the close all were unanimous that the address was the finest ever delivered in this town. The Corinna Cornet Band furnished excellent music, and the meeting was a marked success in every particular. Corinna will give a large majority for honest money the ninth of September. Z.

August 29th.

Dexter.

A correspondent at Dexter writes: A large delegation [illegible] the address of T. M. Nichol, Esq.—It was a splendid meeting and he held the audience spell-bound for more than three hours. His logic and arguments are irresistible, and must have a beneficial effect, wherever he speaks. The Greenbackers are not making any progress in this place. W.

Aug. 28th.

Republican Rally at West Waterville.

Mr. Editor:—Last evening the citizens of this town assembled in Memorial Hall to listen to the addresses of E. M. Heath, Esq., and Gen. James A. Hall, upon the "political issues of the day." B. L. Smith, Esq., presided and introduced as the first speaker, Mr. Heath, who held the closest attention of the large audience for one hour and ten minutes. His argument was clear, concise and unanswerable. Gen. Hall then took the floor and in two minutes or less, succeeded in winning a [illegible] audience, his blows being well aimed and telling. It was an interesting sight to see the Greenbackers twist and squirm as General Hall applied the lash. Their ridiculous and dishonest theory was fully and ably discussed. The General gave them facts not to be refuted and facts that I hope the better portion of them will candidly consider. The speaker occupied the attention of the meeting one hour and ten minutes. At the close the chairman of the meeting suggested a vote of thanks, which was heartily responded to. This is the first rally we have had here during the campaign and never did a meeting pass off more satisfactorily. H.

Aug. 28th.

Mr. Nichol at Brewer.

The weather last evening was decidedly the most inauspicious possible for a public meeting of any kind, threatening and finally breaking out in a very copious shower about half-past seven, but this did not deter a fair audience from assembling in the [illegible] Town Hall to listen to Thos. M. Nichol, Esq., Secretary of the Honest Money League of the Northwest, who spoke on the financial question for nearly two hours. The meeting was called to order by H. M. [illegible], Esq., who introduced the speaker, and Mr. Nichol's sound and logical arguments received the closest attention of his hearers. He speaks in a calm, deliberate manner and [illegible] carefully compares the workings and the results of the present monetary system with the wild theories of the Greenbackers. His address was throughout a very instructive one and was listened to with great interest.

Meeting at Stetson.

Notwithstanding the unfavorable weather last evening, there was a large and enthusiastic Republican meeting at Stetson. Mr. Sylvester, chairman of the Town Committee, presided, and introduced the speakers, H. L. Mitchell, Esq., and Gen. John L. Swift. Both gentlemen made eloquent appeals for hard money and held the close attention of all present. The speakers were frequently interrupted with applause and the meeting passed off very successfully.

Didn't Want any Greenback Talk.

We are informed that T. M. [illegible], Esq., went to Passadumkeag Thursday to hold a meeting, but on arrival was informed that they had heard satisfactory doctrine at the excellent Republican meeting recently held there and did not care to listen to any Greenback talk. As no audience was to be had the speaker left without having accomplished anything at Passadumkeag.

Notice of Change.

The appointments of Thos. M. Nichol, Esq., for Dexter and Newport next week, have been transposed, so that he will speak at Dexter Thursday and at Newport Saturday.

State of Maine.

Penobscot, ss. To the Honorable the Justices of the Supreme Judicial Court.

The Bank Examiner of Savings Banks of said State respectfully represents that the Newport Savings Bank is a Savings Bank duly incorporated by the laws of said State, and having its place of business in the town of Newport in the County of Penobscot aforesaid.

That upon an examination by said Examiner of the concerns and affairs of said corporation, he is of opinion that the same is insolvent and that the condition of said corporation is such as to render its further proceedings hazardous to the public or those having funds in its custody.

Wherefore the said Bank Examiner prays that a writ of injunction may be issued by one of your Honors, to be directed to said corporation, and its officers and agents, commanding them and each of them wholly to desist and refrain from further proceeding with the business of said corporation, except so far as may be necessary to maintain and continue the organization of said corporation, and to receive any moneys in payment of debts due said Bank, until a hearing can be had on this petition; and that after said hearing your Honors will appoint one or more receivers or trustees to take possession and control of the property and effects of said corporation, subject to the order of this Court; and that said corporation and all parties interested in its affairs may be summoned and notified to appear before this Honorable Court at such time and place as to your Honors shall seem meet, to show cause why such injunction should not be made perpetual, and one or more Receivers or Trustees appointed as herein prayed for; and that your Honors will make such Orders and decrees to suspend, restrain or prohibit the further prosecution by the business of the corporation, as may be needful in the premises, according to the course of proceedings in equity.

(Signed) W. W. BOLSTER,
State Bank Examiner.

STATE OF MAINE.

Penobscot, ss. Supreme Judicial Court in Bank ... at Chambers, in Bangor, August 31, 1878. State of Maine, by Bank Examiner of Savings Banks of said State, vs. The Newport Savings Bank.

Upon the petition in the above entitled action, it is ordered that an injunction issue restraining the said Newport Savings Bank, its officers and agents from further proceeding with the business of the said corporation, except so far as may be necessary to maintain and continue the organization of said Savings Bank, and collecting and receiving moneys due said Savings Bank, and on payment thereof giving suitable discharges, the releasing, signing, discharging or otherwise conveying the same ... any property, or ... held by said Savings Bank as security therefor, until after a full hearing has been had on the said petition, and until further order of this Court; and that notice be given to the said Savings Bank to appear before some one of the Justices of this Court, at the Court House in Bangor, in the County of Penobscot, on Tuesday the eighth day of October next, at two o'clock P. M., by serving said Bank with an attested copy of said petition and of this order thereon, fifteen days at least before said Tuesday, the eighth day of October next; and also that notice be given to all parties interested in the premises to appear as aforesaid, by publication of an attested copy of said petition and order three times in the Bangor Daily Whig and Courier, a newspaper published in said Bangor, all of said publications to be before said Tuesday, the eighth day of October next, that they may then and there show cause why said injunction should not be made absolute and perpetual, and one or more Receivers or Trustees appointed, according to the prayer of said petition.

LETTER CARRIERS.

All letters are delivered free by carriers when addressed to street and number. People should inform their correspondents of above and have their letters addressed accordingly.

Persons leaving their address at the General Delivery can also have their letters sent, but it is much more convenient to have the street and number on, and they will be delivered quicker than if the name is put up at the office. Carriers make two deliveries daily, the last trip supplying the business part of the city.

Collections are made morning and evening in season for important mails—the down town boxes fifteen and the up town boxes thirty minutes before closing mails at the office.

Holidays the Carriers' Window will be open for the delivery of letters from 8½ to 9½ A. M., and from 7½ to 8 P. M. Sundays from 8½ to 9½ A. M.

Any irregularities in the Carriers' department should be reported to the office.

ENVELOPES.

No additional charge will be made for printing the name and request to return, across the left hand upper corner of the envelopes furnished by the Post Office Department, quantities of which may be had at the Cashier's window, when ordered in lots of not less than 500.

A request for the return of a letter to the writer, if unclaimed within thirty days, or less, written or printed, with the writer's name, post office and State, across the left end of the envelope, on the face side, will be complied with.

The public are earnestly recommended to procure Stamped envelopes with printed return request, as the expense is less, and letters thus endorsed, if not delivered to the person addressed, are returned to the writer free of charge.

First class envelopes of above furnished at $22.50 per thousand.

Stamps cut from Stamped Envelopes cannot be used to prepay postage. The use of such stamps is punishable by a fine of fifty dollars.

Stamped Envelopes, spoiled in directing, are redeemed at this office.
